A Master Class: Sensational Recipes From The Chefs Of The New England Culinary Instute And Ellen Michaud.

By Chefs Of The New England Culinary Institute; Michaud, Ellen (editor).

University Press of New England, Hanover, 2008. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 292 pages. Hardcover with dustjacket. New book. COOKBOOKS. Named 1 of the top 10 cookbooks of 2008 by NPR. The award-winning Vermont cooking school brings its commitment to taste, flavor, and contemporary, sustainable cuisine to the home kitchen. A Master Class features over 200 luscious recipes created by the celebrated chefs of the New England Culinary Institute, converted for home use and presented along with suggestions for finishing touches, presentation, wine or beverage pairings, and chef's notes. As American consumers begin to understand the shortcomings of the nation's agricultural practices, NECI's chefs develop a magnificent cuisine that pays tribute to the farmer, the food, and the seasons. Ellen Michaud sums up the NECI cooking and dining philosophy: the key, she writes, is "fresh ingredients sustainably sourced and purchased in season from local sources. The less time from field to mouth, farm to mouth, or sea to mouth, the better. The flavors will be intense, subtle, unexpected, classic, and every gradation in between. And because they're grown with an eye toward making sure the source from which they came will be enriched rather than depleted by their cultivation, those same...
